

Righting | Press Release

RIGHTING is Flora Bradwell's directorial debut and winner of Reel Islington Film Festival Best Short Film 2012. This gently funny mockumentary offers a rare glimpse into the world of Christopher Bailey, an eccentric signage enthusiast from Huntingdon beautifully played by Simon Perkins. Chris is an anachronism – a Fred Dibnah fan displaced to his aunt's basement in Hackney. He finds purpose in replacing missing letters on shop fronts, fashioning himself as 'The Robin Hood of Signage'.

Running time: 4.04 mins

Cast & Crew

Christopher Bailey played by Simon Perkins

Passerby played by Fiona Rose Boylan

Directed, Written & Produced by Flora Bradwell

Cinematography by Alix Taylor

Edited by Edward Szekely

Original Score by Dominic Brennan & Philip McDonnell